Cricketers is toast of the town!

Doug McAdam, chairman of Southport & West Lancs CAMRA presents Dave Speak, manager of the Cricketers with the Pub of the Year Award

AN Ormskirk pub which has only been open for 18 months has knocked its rivals for six by winning a prestigious award.

The Cricketers in Chapel Street has been named West Lancashire Pub of the Year by the Southport & West Lancs branch of the Campaign for Real Ale (CAMRA).

Doug McAdam, chairman of Southport and West Lancashire branch of the CAMRA presented the award to Cricketers manager, Dave Speak, on Wednesday, June 10.

Assistant manager, Rob Smith, told the Champion: "We are absolutely made up to win the award – to do so well when we haven't been open very long is brilliant.

"We were especially pleased as we know that we were up against some really tough competition."

KATIE'S AIMING FOR A DOUBLE SPLASH!

Swim ace targets world record and £5,000 boost for charity

Report by Danielle Thompson

A TALENTED swimmer from Aughton is aiming to make a splash at the double later this summer – by raising more than £5,000 for charity and smashing a world record into the bargain!

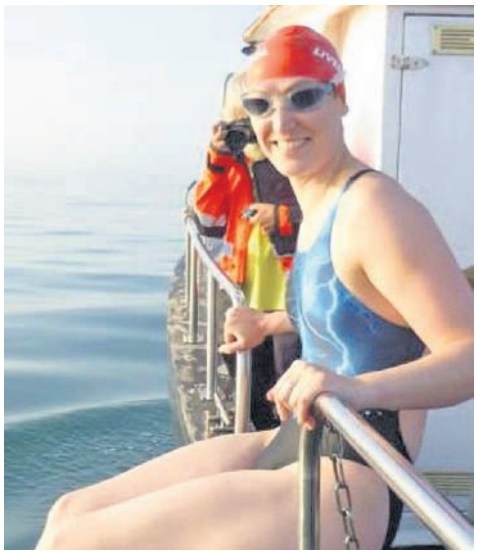
Katie Birchall from Town Green, is one of a six–strong team who aim to complete a grueling three–way swim of the English Channel between Dover and Cap Griz Nez near Calais in less than 30 hours 31 minutes.

And they are hoping to raise more than £5,000 for the British Heart Foundation and international children's charity, UNICEF.

The accomplished team are confident they can break the current Guinness world record time as four of the six, including Katie, were in the Andy's Channel Ladies team, which holds the world record for the fastest two–way crossing in 18 hours 13 minutes in July 2013.

Katie and teammates Jane McCormick, Dee Llewellyn, Lucy Lloyd–Roach, Emma Ross and Natalie Massey, will all face a minimum of 12 miles of swimming each in cold water without wetsuits and the hazards of stinging jellyfish, swimming in the dark, floating debris and rough seas.

The Channel is the busiest shipping lane in the world with up to 500 tankers, container ships, ferries and fishing vessels passing through the narrow strait every day.



Katie Birchall pictured on an earlier Channel swim

It will cost £7,000 for a qualified Channel pilot, boat, crew, fuel, safety equipment and official observer and the team are hoping to raise £2,500 of this from donations on fundraising website crowdfunder.co.uk, with the rest of the money paid by the swimmers themselves.

So far they have raised more than £900 but need to raise the last £1,600 by Friday, July 31.

Each swimmer will swim for one hour, then rest for five hours on the boat while the others complete their swims.

They will set out from Dover to Cap Griz Nez, where the swimmer in the water will climb out on to dry land, get back in and start swimming back to Dover – then back again!

Katie, a sales executive for a shipping line, told the Champion the swimmers have been doing 4 to 10k practice swims seven times a week since April without wetsuits to acclimatise to the cold.

Katie currently holds the British masters record for 100m backstroke and won two gold medals at the masters World Championships in Gothenburg in 2010 and Italy 2012, as well as silver and bronze.

The 33–year–old qualified for the 2010 Commonwealth and 2012 London Olympic Trials, narrowly missing qualifying for the final by 0.2 seconds.

She said: "I started swimming at Park Pool as young child then joined the Ormskirk Otters team before competing with the City of Liverpool squad.

"We are really excited but a bit nervous too – we all hate jellyfish! On one leg of the two–way swim I had to swim through thousands of jellyfish and loads of seaweed.

"We will all be doing a lot more night swimming on this one so we will be holding training for that next month in the Lake District."

Councils dismiss campaign group's 'huge assets' claim

Report by Henry James

A REPORT by campaign group the TaxPayers' Alliance which accuses local authorities – including West Lancs Borough Council and Lancashire County Council – of sitting on "huge assets" while pleading poverty, has been dismissed as misleading.

According to the alliance, which describes itself as a 'grassroots campaigning group dedicated to reforming taxes, cutting spending and protecting taxpayers', West Lancs Council is the owner of a golf course, 44 car parks, a swimming pool/leisure centre, a farm, a pub, two shopping centres, a hotel and a factory!

Meanwhile, the report also claims that Lancashire County Council owns a car park, 13 farms, a theatre, a pub, a restaurant and a hotel.

However, borough council bosses said the authority does NOT own a farm, pub or hotel, while a county council spokesman also refuted claims that it owns a hotel, theatre, pub or restaurant. It is believed the venues referred to may be council–run facilities which are licensed to sell alcohol and/or refreshments.

Jonathan Isaby, chief executive of the TaxPayers' Alliance, said: "It looks deeply hypocritical for councils to plead poverty as an excuse for hiking council tax when they've got such a huge asset portfolio. Local authorities should be focussed on essential services.

"The time has come for a serious discussion on what councils should, and should not, be doing – a drastic re–think which saw many of these assets returned to the private sector, where some of them clearly belong, would be a dramatic step towards a balanced budget and protecting taxpayers."

A borough council spokesman said: "West Lancashire Borough Council owns a number of land and property assets most of which are council dwellings. The majority of the remaining assets (such as the golf course and the meeting rooms) were transferred from the Skelmersdale Development Corporation. These properties generally have restrictions on their use, together with an obligation on the council to repay to the government a percentage of any capital receipt if the asset were to be sold.

"These income–producing assets were transferred to the council as part of a balancing package to meet the costs of the land which was also transferred and had ongoing liabilities, such as tree management and footpath repairs.

"The council has a policy known as the Strategic Asset Management Project which considers all its land and property holdings and challenges if they could be better used or whether a disposal would be the preferred option. To date, the council has achieved receipts of £393,200 which have been spent on capital programmes.

"Finally, to clarify, the council does NOT own a farm or a pub or a hotel."

And a spokesperson for Lancashire County Council commented: "The TaxPayers' Alliance has misinterpreted the information provided to them. The county council does not own a hotel, a theatre, a pub or a restaurant. To give a concrete example of the lack of rigour in the research, the hotel they claim we own is the Park Hotel building in Preston, which was last used as a hotel in 1950."

Anger over threat to college jobs

Report by Henry James

Motivational speaker booked to address tutors hours after they were told of possible redundancies

A MOTIVATIONAL speaker was booked to give a presentation to tutors at West Lancashire College, just hours after the same tutors had been told they faced compulsory redundancies.

Up to 20 jobs are under threat at the college, which has sites in Skelmersdale and Ormskirk, due "to changes in funding across the further education sector."

Bosses are also looking at the college's A Level provision.

One tutor, who asked to remain anonymous, told the Champion: "We were initially told about the possible compulsory redundancies on April 7 and before the presentation principal Maria Gelling played a CD of birds tweeting, which we thought was inappropriate.

"And the same day she had also booked a motivational speaker which again eyebrows were raised at. We are all intelligent people and that was not a good way to do it."

The disgruntled tutor also claims that Ms Gelling had informed staff about a deficit in college funds via a video selfie while she was giving a presentation last September.

And he said staff were angry about the delay between being told about the possible redundancies in April and the formal notification being sent out in this month.

He added: "At the presentation in April one of the union reps asked when would we know more. She said within a week or two, but it was not until eight weeks later that we received the formal notification."

The tutor also claimed that A Level courses could be scrapped at the college.

"The A level tutors are going. The first year students will be allowed to complete their second year but the college won't be taking on any new students after that. We have been told that there is no need for A levels in this area. I don't know how to take that."

Maria Gilling said: "Due to changes in funding across the FE sector and a need to realign our staffing and provision to meet local need, we have had to make some changes regarding the future structure of the college which could result in 20 job losses.

"We are currently involved in consultation with college staff, including a review of the A Levels that will be available in the future. We are committed to our current A Level learners.

"We understand that this is a very stressful time for staff, learners and their families and we will ensure they receive every support possible."

Answering claims that the A level courses are going, a spokesperson for the college commented: "Following a detailed review, we will no longer offer AS level provision from September 2015. However, we remain committed to the success of our current A Level learners."

The college confirmed that there was a motivational speaker but pointed out this was part of a full staff conference.

The spokesperson added that the CD of birds tweeting was used as it was a spring conference.

In September 2011, the college moved to a new £42.8 million campus in Skelmersdale.

Edge Hill vice–chancellor awarded CBE in Queen's Birthday Honours List

Report by Henry James

Dr John Cater

THE vice–chancellor of Edge Hill University, Dr John Cater, has been awarded the CBE in the Queen's Birthday Honours for services to higher education and teacher training.

Dr Cater is the longest–serving head of a UK higher education institution, having been appointed in 1993.

He said: "Edge Hill has made tremendous progress over the past 20 years, culminating in this year's Times Higher Education's University of the Year award and this generous recognition is a testament to everything my colleagues have achieved and acknowledges the debt I have to them all."

During his 22 years at the helm, Edge Hill University has grown and developed considerably, moving up by more than 40 places in national league tables since 2006 and recently being named both University of the Year 2014–15 and Best University Workplace by Times Higher Education, as well as being the highest rated university in the North West in the last National Student survey.

As a social geographer, Dr Cater has published extensively on race, housing, economic development and public policy, and co–authored major research studies for the Social Science Research Council, the Commission for Racial Equality and their successor bodies.

He is currently chair of the joint Universities UK and GuildHE Teacher Education Advisory Group (TEAG), has been a director of the Higher Education Careers Service since 1994 and was chair of Liverpool City of Learning from 2003–2005.

He chaired the Standing Conference of Principals from 2001 to 2003, having been vice–chair from 1997 to 2001 and was a director of the Teacher Training Agency and its successor body, the Training and Development Agency for Schools, from 1999–2006, chairing both the accreditation and the audit committees.

A member of the Department of Health's expert advisory panel on nurse education and training from 1995 to 1997, he has also has sat on Universities UK's health education and research policy network since 2004.

National triumph for charity shop workers

A TEAM of charity shop workers are celebrating a national success.

The Salvation Army shop in Ormskirk has been named as Gift Aid Shop of the Year after staff raised more than £4,000 'extra' by urging customers to Gift–Aid their donations when purchasing goods.

Under the scheme charities can claim back an extra 25p from the government for every pound they make from any income tax or capital gains tax that the customer has already paid that tax year, if the buyer makes a Gift Aid declaration giving them permission to do so.

During May, staff at the Salvation Army shop in Aughton Street played a key role in raising an extra £4,339 of funds from shops in Lancashire, thanks to almost 40% of donors and customers in the store agreeing to Gift Aid their donations.

However, a further £7,106 could have been claimed if all donations had been Gift Aided and area manager for the Salvation Army Trading Company Ltd., Ann Penny, believes that if more people knew how easy it was to join the scheme, this figure could be much higher.

She said: "We're grateful for all the donations we receive, however it really does make a big difference when our customers agree to let us claim Gift Aid on their donations.

"As long as you are a UK taxpayer all you need to do is complete a short declaration form at the shop. We then register you on our system so that each time you come back with donations they're automatically gift–aided. It couldn't be simpler.

"Gift Aid is a fantastic HMRC initiative and if everyone that could sign up for it did so, that extra 25% would mean thousands more being raised locally each month."

The Salvation Army provides homelessness and addiction services, care for older people, help at emergency incidents, support for adult victims of human trafficking, a family tracing service and much more.

Ann added: "Across all our shops the potential contribution from Gift Aid adds up to millions each year. This money could be funding The Salvation Army's valuable work with people who are vulnerable and in need across the UK."

County councillor backs 'benefits check' campaign

Joint initiative aims to ensure elderly residents receive what they are entitled to

By Henry James

A LOCAL county councillor is backing a campaign aimed at identifying elderly residents who might not be receiving all the benefits they are entitled to.

Julie Gibson, county councillor for Skelmersdale West, has praised the 'benefits check' campaign launched by Lancashire County Council's welfare rights unit in partnership with West Lancs Borough Council.

Nearly 2,500 over–75s who receive some help towards their rent or council tax payments have already been identified and will soon start to receive letters advising them of any extra assistance they may be entitled to.

Cllr. Gibson said: "From this week elderly residents who have been identified by West Lancs Council will receive a letter and a flyer in the post inviting them to fill in the tear–off coupon and send it back to Lancashire Welfare Rights for a benefits check.

County councillor Gibson

"The team will be working closely with the Department for Work and Pensions visiting service to make sure we help as many people as we can to get the help they need. I would urge all those who receive a form to fill it in and send it back."

Similar take–up campaigns across Preston and Lancaster city councils have generated an extra £985,000 per year in income for residents who replied to the letters.

Cllr. Gibson said: "Before I joined the county council I participated in a number of these campaigns when I worked in the Merseyside Voluntary Sector. The benefit they bring, not just in monetary value, to residents and local communities is vital to improving the health and wellbeing of some of our most vulnerable residents."

And she added: "I'd just like to reassure residents that this is a genuine campaign.

"It's possible that there are many elderly residents not receiving their full entitlement, the aim of the campaign is to make sure that they do."

The dramatic scene was captured on camera by a driver.

Drivers confronted by huge pall of smoke after blaze at garden centre

Report by Louisa Austin

THIS was the dramatic scene facing drivers travelling between Ormskirk and Maghull on Monday (June 15) as a huge pall of black smoke rose high into the sky as a result of a blaze at a garden centre.

A shed full of compost that had ignited in a storage area at the back of Robins Bridge Nursery and Plant Centre on the A59 near Aughton was the source of the smoke.

The fire at the centre, on Springfield Road in Aughton, started around 11.30am but was contained quickly by two fire crews from Skelmersdale and Ormskirk.

The police also attended and cordoned off the area but no–one was injured in the incident.

Nearby resident Dave Hughes said: "It looked like a considerable quantity of compost has gone up in smoke.

"There must be more than 50 pallets completely burnt."

A spokesperson for the nursery said: "We did lose a considerable amount of stock in the fire.

"Plastic plant pots went on fire which is what caused the black smoke many people saw.

"Thankfully the alpacas which are kept in a nearby field were not harmed.

"The retail area of the business was totally unaffected, however, and we are still open for business."

New Booths store to open next month

The new Booths on the Ringtail Retail Park is set to open next month Code1081491

THE NEW Booths supermarket in Burscough is set to open next month.

Built on the site of the former HMS Ringtail Fleet Air Arm naval station, the store will create 80 new jobs and is scheduled to open to the public on Wednesday, July 15.

The store has been created in the shape of a World War Two aircraft hangar to celebrate the area's military heritage, is almost 32,000 square feet in size and will include its own café, butchery, fishmonger and deli counters.

Richard Ford, who has worked at Booths supermarkets for the last 30 years, has been appointed as the new store manager.

He said: "Opening Booths in Burscough is a return to the company's heartland in rural Lancashire.

"The region is stacked with excellent local producers making and growing some of the finest food Britain has to offer.

"The state–of the–art store is very impressive and I think our customers will be excited."

Festival 'high flyers' back at Beacon Park

Members of the Northern Kite Group at last year's festival Code1070269

THE 10th annual Beacon Country Park Kite Festival takes place this year on Sunday, June 21 starting at 10am.

Because of the park's unique position, overlooking much of Cheshire and Merseyside, kites flown here can be seen for miles.

The festival is presented by the Northern Kite Group in association with the West Lancashire Ranger Service and admission is free.

On display will be kites of every shape and size, including large inflatable animals, oriental kites, bird kites, stunt kites and the traditional Altitude Sprints, which are a race to the sky.

Len Royles, Northern Kite Group chairman, said: "A kite festival offers fun and entertainment for all the family. As well as watching the kites on display, there is plenty of space for families to fly their own kites and if the public wish to purchase a kite a good selection is available from the kite stall."

A new highlight of the day, particularly for young children, will be a supervised mass fly of Rainbow Delta Kites in the arena.

The Northern Kite Group will loan 20 of the kites out and experienced kite flyers will ensure each child has an experience to remember.

Artist lands key role in warhorse memorial project

A LOCAL artist who worked with schoolchildren on a national competition to design a statue to commemorate horses' service to humans in conflict has now been appointed art director for the project's memorial.

Pupils at St Mary's Catholic Primary School in Scarisbrick took part in the Free Spirit Horse Memorial Appeal's national art competition to design a bronze life–sized horse statue to celebrate the animals' contribution to the workplace, sport, rehabilitation and education.

Although they didn't win they were awarded rosettes for their efforts. Now, Georgia Louise, from Hall Road, Scarisbrick, who helped the children to design their entries, has been appointed Art Project Director for the Free Spirit Warhorse Memorial.

She said: "Tracy Francis from the Free Spirit Warhorse Memorial Monument visited the school to show her appreciation for the hard work and effort the school put into the competition.

"I covered the art educational work and also created children's horse drawing manuals to teach the children simplicity and worked with the class teacher and assistant to create literature and poems along with the themed pieces which were produced by the children."

Georgia Louise

Now in her new role Georgia will seek to raise awareness of the need to commemorate the war horses on Remembrance Day (November 11).

National award for care home worker

Report by Danielle Thompson

A CARE home worker who helped to launch an initiative to help older people in West Lancashire feel more included in the wider community has been given national recognition.

Lesley Malone, events organiser at the Hillcroft residential and dementia care home in Long Lane, Aughton received the Great British Care Award at a glittering ceremony in Manchester.

The awards are a tribute to individuals who have demonstrated outstanding excellence in 16 categories in the care sector.

Lesley, who won the Care Home Activity Organiser Award, was one of six finalists who reached the number one activity organiser spot in the North West category.

Last year, staff at Hillcroft spearheaded a campaign to make older people in the local community feel more involved by inviting them to join residents at free activities and events held at the home and on day trips out.

Lesley Malone

And although "proud and honoured" to win the award, Lesley was happy to dedicate it to the residents at the home.

She said: "In my role, I am supported by the manager and deputy manager, Margaret Sutcliff and Tracey Green, all the carers and staff, the residents' families and – most importantly – the older people who live at Hillcroft care home.

"The night at the care awards was like being at the Oscars but most importantly I was with people who all work in social care. It was a fantastic night spent with the best of the best in the sector.

"It was an honour for me to be asked and a very proud moment to win the award

"I feel it's my role to let people in the community who live in care homes or at home, suffering from dementia or not, know that they can still all have a great quality of life.

"I am passionate about helping elderly people to feel included and organising events for the benefit of the community.

"Activities, events and trips out to lovely places can make a real impact on an older person's life and, as our residents at Hillcroft say, you are only as old as you feel.

"I dedicate this award to the residents. It's an absolute pleasure to see them smile, laugh, reminisce and enjoy their lives."

Margaret Thorburn, one of the residents at the home, said: "We all do really love Lesley."

Ladies support bra bank appeal

A LINGERIE shop owner was inundated after appealing for customers to donate their unwanted bras for charity.

Katie Givens, co–owner of Pandora's Box in Wheatsheaf Walk, Ormskirk, offered a free fitting and up to £5 off a new bra for customers taking part in her 'bra bank' appeal.

And the result was more than 1,500 bras being handed in which will be passed on to recycling organisation BCR Textiles who sort them before sending them on to be sold for nominal amounts to women in Third World countries who either do not have access to or are unable to afford new garments.

The proceeds of the sales are then donated to a charity of the donor's choice.

Katie said: "Last year we collected between 1,200 and 1,300 used bras from our generous customers and we were hoping to beat that number this year.

"And the bra bank has been an even bigger success – women have come in in their droves and we have collected more than 1,500 bras! We're very pleased with the response and by people's generosity."

Katie chose The Cystic Fibrosis Trust as her nominated charity, as her four–year–old son Jude, suffers from the genetic disorder which mostly affects the lungs and can result in sufferers finding it hard to breathe and digest food.

Katie Givens (centre) and colleagues Jessica Muirhead and Jackie Wood with some of the donated bras.

Village gardens open to public in aid of Millenium Green

GARDENS across Mawdsley will be opened to the public to raise funds for the Mawdsley Millennium Green on Sunday, June 28.

The Mawdsley Garden Open Event will run from 12.30 to 5pm.

Eight gardens will be open throughout the village and all donations given will go towards the maintenance of the Mawdesley Millennium Green, which is a registered charity.

Event organiser, Sue Anderson, said: "We have a mixture of small gardens and mature gardens. Refreshments will be available at some gardens, while others will have plant sales.

"Programmes cost £4 per person and these will be available from Mawdesley Londis or at any garden on the day."

There will be a musical surprise for lucky visitors at several of the gardens.

Sue added: "Several of the gardens will have a musical feel to them as Mawdesley Ukele Group will be playing, as well as the recently set–up Red Admiral Brass Band."

For the addresses of the eight gardens, call in to Mawdsley Londis on New Street.

Residents welcome move to defer decision on HMO

Report by Danielle Thompson

RESIDENTS opposed to an application to turn a property in Derby Road, Ormskirk into a house of multiple occupancy have welcomed West Lancs Council's planning committee's move to defer the decision.

Neighbours had been disappointed and feared the worst when planning department officers recommended approval of the application.

Now they hope councillors will block the proposals when they are discussed at the next meeting of the planning committee on Friday, June 26.

Residents had raised issues including the 'clustering' of houses of multiple occupancy on Wigan Road and Derby Road, a lack of off–road parking and lack of garden space leading to the use of the flat–roof space on the property's extension as a balcony and the resulting loss of privacy for neighbours.

Derby Road resident, Claire Lane, said: "The decision being deferred, which my fellow neighbours and I are pleased about, is possibly the best outcome we could have hoped for, bar the application being refused outright.

"I can't tell you how disappointed we were to see that West Lancs Council planning department officers decided to recommend the approval of this application.

"The decision being deferred appeared to be to allow councillors on the planning committee to obtain information regarding how many other HMOs are near to this proposed one and for committee members to conduct a site visit to have a good look at the location in general.

Blocking

"I hope the lack of garden space is viewed and taken into account at this property. There is virtually no outside space to the rear, it is predominantly taken up by the rear flat–roof extension – which is why in the past both students and recent renters have used the aforementioned flat–roof extension as a balcony/extension of the garden.

"This means neighbours, including myself, lose all privacy as anyone on that roof can see straight into all near–by gardens from on top of that extension.

"Parking is also going to be an issue. Parking anywhere near the property will mean parking in a turning head, blocking some else's private access driveway or parking on the pavement and causing an illegal obstruction. There are already parking pressurs in the cul–de–sac as most of us have shared drives and more than one car."

Station bikes used in London promotion

SOME of Ormskirk's most recognisable bikes have been used on a cycle ride from the Dutch Embassy to Westminster in London to raise awareness of Bike Week, which runs until Sunday (June 21).

Twenty of the black–and–red 'Bike & Go' bikes, which can usually be rented at Ormskirk railway station, were sent to London for use by MPs, peers, and others with a keen cycling interest who were taking part in a launch event earlier this week.

Bike Week Bike is the UK's biggest mass participation cycling event, with almost half–a–million people participating at events across the country.

It is held to raise awareness of the health benefits of cycling.

Carers recognised at annual hospital trust Pride awards

Southport Hospital Cancer Services Team, one of the three team of the year winners

STAFF and volunteers providing care at Southport and Ormskirk Hospital NHS Trust were recognised at the seventh annual Trust Pride Awards.

Nearly 450 staff, volunteers and guests attended the event at Southport Theatre and Convention Centre.

Staff cast votes for colleagues in 12 of the 13 categories, while patients and other members of the public were invited to vote in the Patients' Award.

Trust chief executive, Jonathan Parry, said: "The Pride Awards is a wonderful opportunity to celebrate the commitment, dedication and professionalism of our staff and volunteers.

"We received nearly 400 nominations which is a big vote in each other and by the people we care for."

The awards were sponsored by Hill Dickinson solicitors, Edge Hill University, The Learning Clinic, D A Languages Ltd., Alto Digital and Zen Office, with support from La–De–Da Occasions of Ormskirk and Baker Lodge Studios, Southport.

Brave biker bares all to help local animal sanctuary!

‘We’re right behind him’, says Woodlands trustee

Report by Ollie Cowan

A BIG–hearted biker shed his inhibitions – along with his clothes! – in aid of a West Lancashire charity that relies entirely on donations from the public and fundraising events.

Helpers at the Woodland Animal Sanctuary in Holmeswood were stunned but delighted when Ian Beck said he wanted to raise money for the shelter by embarking on a sponsored naked bike ride through Manchester!

The intrepid pedal–pusher was not alone in his ‘bare–all’ endeavours, however, as he joined hundreds of other like–minded individuals in the 2015 World Naked Bike Ride on Friday (June 12).

Ian, from Birkdale, said: “I wanted to raise funds for the animal sanctuary by doing something different.

“This is a small local charity supported by local vets and the local community but woefully under–resourced.

“Yes, there may be bigger global issues to worry about, but we neglect the small local ones at our peril.”

Stripped for action – Ian with his bike

The sanctuary, which cares for unwanted and neglected farm animals, along with small domestic creatures and species of native wildlife, is a charitable trust set up in 2005 which receives no government funding.

Vickie Maude, trustee at Woodlands, said: “I was delighted that Ian decided to raise money for the sanctuary – it’s certainly a different way to raise money for us!

“And we hope that lots of people get behind him – he is definitely a lot braver than me!”

Misguided to claim the dumping of three million tons of toxic waste would be a benefit to the area

RE: 'Whitemoss report has all the answers' (Champion, June 10) this letter is the incoherent ramblings of a misguided soul who obviously has some connection with Whitemoss landfill. Only such a person would consider the dumping of three million tons of toxic waste a benefit to the area.

What he refers to is not a report, it a 24–page document stating the minister's reasons for accepting the report of the Planning Inspectorate (which is 221 pages long).

This minister had only been in post for 10 days after the general election. Was this sufficient time for him to become competent to read and understand the report that took six months of hearings and three months of deliberation by the Planning Inspectorate to prepare?

As Mr. Bennett has patently not read the report, or the evidence presented to the inspectorate, let me remind him of just four of the points the report did not answer.

1. Scientific evidence that tips eventually leak, seems to be conveniently ignored.

2. Waste categories on Whitemoss's licence application (quoted from their own website) will include the following as defined by the Environment Agency:

H7 Carcinogenic, Carc. Cat. 1, 2 & 3 – 'Carcinogenic' substances and preparations which, if they are inhaled or ingested or if they penetrate the skin, may induce cancer or increase its incidence.

H11 Mutagenic, Muta. Cat. 1, 2 and 3 – 'Mutagenic' substances and preparations which, if they are inhaled or ingested or if they penetrate the skin, may induce hereditary genetic defects or increase their incidence.

The report makes no mention of what will happen when these eventually leak.

3. Evidence from the Department of Health, which appears on the Environmental Health Atlas website, clearly shows that the incidence of several diseases –including cancers, heart disease, kidney disease and lung diseases – are much higher than the national average in West Lancashire, particularly in the parishes nearest to the tip. This has been glossed over as just 'health fears' – pretty real if you ask me.

4. The UK has signed up to EU conventions on toxic waste disposal so why do we then completely ignore this and go in the opposite direction? Not answered!

I would ask Mr. Bennett to make himself aware of the facts before he uses the press to promote the cause of Whitemoss Landfill.

If Labour programme means better life for our community I'm all for it

IT was entertaining reading the words of Councillor Westley quoted in Henry James's report in the Champion (June 3).

Cllr. Westley turned the election of the new Labour leader of the council, the result of a democratic process, into a 'coup' and the fact that the cabinet contains trade unionists apparently warrants the description of 'stuffed' instead of appointed.

Further, apparently it's enough to be 'left wing' and 'socialist' to be "in breach of the Trades Description Act"!

Instead the councillor praises 'moderate ex–Lib–Dems'. I wonder why?

But it's a moot point whether moderation is always a good thing and whether left–wing socialists are a bad thing, after all it was left–wing socialists who brought our National Health Service into being at the end of the Second World War.

And apparently, growing the local economy, creating better job opportunities and protecting front–line services via a range of partnerships is dismissed by Cllr. Westley as 'socialist dogma' and 'growing the council'!

Well, I for one, am delighted to hear of the Labour administration's programme and if it means paying a bit more council tax, it's worth it for the sake of everyone getting a better life in this community.

Diana Jones,

Council needs to look at changes to Ormskirk town centre

WITH Asda resportedly taking an interest in the warehouse down by Halfords, which will be vacant in the near future, West Lancs Council needs to look at Ormskirk town centre, which is becoming more and more empty of key shops.

Firstly, the work on the main thoroughfare in the town is taking a long time to complete so people who shop there tend to look elsewhere if they find shopping difficult. And if they find somewhere else to shop, you usually lose them for good.

Secondly, on the subject of car–parking, if Asda do locate at this place the parking will be free, like across the road from them at Halfords etc., so what is needed is a review of parking in the town.

Perhaps the car–parks within the town could become free for two hours and the car park at Burscough Street become a paying long–stay for people who need to park all day. This would help pay towards the rest.

Thirdly, students who attend the university who are not local should be accommodated within the university site and so will not interfere with the local housing, as is happening now. Because they would be on site, the university could discourage car use and promote public transport use instead and students could come into town for R & R and not interfere with the local infastructure.

Stephen Bennett,
Ashurst

Amazed at this 'stupid' system

I WAS astonished to find recently that West Lancashire Borough Council will not allow you to live in their sheltered accommodation without a next of kin address. If you move into sheltered accommodation, they then ask for this information and if you cannot supply it they threaten you with eviction.

It seems that they have boxes to tick and if your next of kin is dead and has no phone number, they threaten you with eviction.

They don't seem to realise that the dead don't have telephones or they're genuinely incapable of free thinking outside their tick boxes.

It amazes me how stupid this system of theirs really is. I know they want a name and address to contact if aything happens to you because it absolves them of any responsibility, but they take it to ludicrous lengths including harrassing you for details that don't exist and for some odd reason the law allows them to do this.

They've turned sheltered accommodation into an exclusive club and disbar anyone who doesn't tick all their little boxes and they pat themselves on the back for doing a good job.

They don't care about those who don't tick the boxes and there are many people in West Lancs living in unsuitable accommodation because of it.

People with no next of kin aren't counted in ones and twos in this area, there are hundreds if not thousands of them. For some it's because relatives died and for some it may be for legal reasons they cannot fill in the information.

But to this callous uncaring regime it doesn't matter, the wardens drive nice cars and have a cushy job for the most part and they don't want their lives spoilt by people who don't tick all the boxes.

We really have an uncaring society now.

Residents say waste charges will lead to more fly–tipping

Report by Henry James

WEST Lancs residents who want to dispose of construction and demolition waste at Lancashire County Council's household waste recycling centres now need to apply for a permit or face being charged.

County council bosses brought in the changes at the start of this month and claim the new policy will help to reduce the estimated £750,000 annual cost of dealing with 'inert' waste including soil, rubble and ceramics, such as toilets and sinks.

However, a number of residents have contacted the Champion complaining about the changes.

Arthur Rea from Birch Green, who didn't have a permit, wanted to leave some broken wall tiles at the Skelmersdale recycling centre but was shocked when he was asked to pay.

The 61–year–old said: "I can't believe they are now charging at the tip. I am really annoyed about it. What do we pay our council tax for? They wanted £3.50 for each item and I must have had at least 500! The tiles are still in the back of my car but I think these changes will encourage fly–tipping."

The county council say residents can apply for a free permit allowing them to dispose of up to ten 25kg bags of construction and demolition waste a year without charge. A charge of £3.50 per 25kg bag or equivalent item will be applied for any further waste or for any waste delivered without a permit. Permits are valid for a calendar year or until the free allowance has been used.

The household waste recycling centre in Skelmersdale

County Councillor Janice Hanson, Lancashire's cabinet member for public protection and waste, said: "The new permit system will encourage people to be responsible by allowing for free disposal of a reasonable amount, allowing completion of small–scale DIY projects without charge.

"At the same time it provides flexibility for those who want the convenience of depositing this waste without a permit or taking more than the limited free amount but they will need to pay for this service. However, other options, such as skip hire, will provide better value for money for people engaged in larger household projects.

"A permit will be valid until the end of the calendar year when residents can renew it for another 12 months. So if you know you will want to dispose of construction and demolition waste in the coming months, please think about applying for your permit now."

Public's views wanted on community health

By Henry James

HEALTH chiefs in West Lancashire are holding a series of informal events across the borough inviting residents to share their experiences of local community health services.

The drop–in events will be attended by senior representatives from NHS West Lancashire Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG), Lancashire Care NHS Foundation Trust and Southport & Ormskirk Hospital NHS Trust, and will focus on community health services.

People will be able to talk about their experiences with GPs, district nurses and community matrons, mental health services, podiatry, dieticians, physiotherapists, and occupational therapists.

Greg Mitten, board member of NHS West Lancashire CCG who oversees patient and public involvement, said: "We hold these events to give everyone a chance to raise their views on community health services. We don't just want to hear about what's gone well, but would also welcome any feedback on what's not and where we can improve.

"The events are open to all ages but we are especially interested in hearing from individuals who are 65 years old and over, with one or more long–term conditions. Each event runs for two hours but you can drop in any time for as long as you like. We look forward to welcoming your views."

Details of the events are as follows:

- Wednesday, June 24, Up Holland Library, 2 to4pm
- Friday, June 26, Tarleton Library, 10am to noon
- June 29, Skelmersdale Library, 2 to 4pm
- Thursday, July 2, Parbold Library, 2 to 4pm
- Wednesday, July 8, Brookside, Ormskirk, 6 to 8pm

Anyone wishing to discuss anything in advance can contact NHS West Lancashire CCG by email at myview@westlancashireccg.nhs.uk or by post at NHS West Lancashire CCG, Hilldale, Wigan Road, Ormskirk, L39 2JW.

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Manager Paul Kane feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service the Crosby, Litherland, Aintree, Maghull, Walton, Anfield, Netherton, Bootle, Formby, Ormskirk and Skelmersdale areas & Paul is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. *'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. Baton change at band

AN award–winning West Lancashire musical ensemble have appointed a new musical director.

Karl Stott is taking over the baton at the Skelmersdale Prize Band from Dave Chapman who had been with the group since 2011.

With an impressive musical background, including a degree in conducting and performance at Salford University, Karl has been a player with Northop Silver Band for 10 years and also helped Northop Brass win their fourth section national title in 2014.

As a conductor he gained valuable experience with Northop Youth Band, who he led for nine years, and Greenalls Band who were under his baton for five years, before he opted to take a break from banding in 2012.

After completing a post–graduate diploma in primary education at Edge Hill University, the opportunity with Skelmersdale Prize Band gave Karl the chance to return to banding.

A spokesperson for the band, who rehearse twice a week at their base in old Skelmersdale, said: "The band and committee would like to wish Karl success and enjoyment in what is sure to be an exciting new era for all. We would also like to take this opportunity to thank departing musical director, Dave Chapman, who is leaving the band, along with his partner and soprano cornet player Jemma Gaskell, to take an exciting career opportunity in Mexico."

Over to you...Dave Chapman (right) wishes Karl Stott well in his new role

Since joining the band as musical director in 2011, having previously been involved with the youth band section as a trombone player, Dave helped them to grow in confidence, achieving impressive contest results. In recent months they have won first, second and third place trophies in various competitions, as well as qualifying for the national finals in Cheltenham in September.

THE winners of the Martin Mere 40th anniversary photograph competition have been announced.

Launched in March, the competition to mark 40 years since the Wildfowl & Wetlands Trust opened the centre in Burscough attracted nearly 400 entries showcasing the brilliant and varied wildlife on display at the site.

First prize in the adult section went to Robert Falcon from Bootle with his picture of a goldeneye duck on a stunning yellow stretch of water.

Mr Falcon said: "I was just at the right place at the right time, everything was in the right place with the light catching the water with the goldeneye and I just got lucky on the day."

The junior competition was won by 14–year–old Joel Tragen from Manchester with his picture of two mandarin ducks.

There were also honourable mentions for Maggie Henfield from Ramsbottom in the adult category for her picture of a chick 'dancing' through the daisies at the Mere, while in the juniors Elliot Montieth's picture of two flamingos embracing to form a heart shape also caught the eye.

Call for county to replace conservation area tree

By Danielle Thompson

A BOROUGH councillor is calling for Lancashire County Council to replace a tree which had to be cut down in an Ormskirk conservation area due to being diseased.

Derby ward independent, Councillor Adrian Owens, has called on the county to relax its stance on the replacement of trees on the public highway to plant a replacement for the canker–affected horse chestnut removed from Ruff Lane, by Victoria Park.

Cankers are bacterial infections which affect isolated dead areas on the bark, stems, branches or twigs, causing the tree to weaken and become more susceptible to wind damage.

Cllr. Owens said: "It's a shame that this mature horse chestnut had to be taken down but it was suffering from canker disease. I understand that the county council do not ususally replace trees on highways land because of financial issues or where there may have been problems for wheelchair and pram users.

"However, in this case, I hope the county council will listen to our tree and landscape officer and make an exception. The location is in the Ruff Lane conservation area and tree–lined roads are an intrinsic part of the landscape there. Such trees also play an important role in capturing airborne particulates from vehicles so reducing air pollution which is a concern in parts of the town centre."

MONITOR

Ridwan Musa, highways manager for Lancashire County Council, said: "Trees on the highway add to the character of many roads in Lancashire, and we do all we reasonably can to look after and preserve them.

"The horse chestnut on Ruff Lane had to be removed for safety as it was in very poor condition, with half of the tree being dead due to the canker disease. As the remaining trees are also horse chestnuts we will monitor their condition.

"Any action we take in future will need to consider the health of all the horse chestnuts, their contribution to the character of the conservation area, and the options to replace them if further trees had to be removed. It would therefore be premature to replace this individual tree at the moment."

Moustache–themed fun in store at Chapel Gallery

BUDDING young artists are being invited to create a funny moustache–themed Father's Day gift at Ormskirk's Chapel Gallery.

To coincide with National Children's Art Week, the gallery in St Helens Road is providing creative workshops from now until Saturday, June 27 and is inviting kids to become Mr Moustache the Art Detective.

Free activities for all ages include making your own moustache, taking part in a quiz about famous moustaches and enjoying a variety of games.

Visitors can enjoy becoming art detectives and use magnifying glasses to find hidden shoe prints and discover the wonder of original pieces of artwork in the exhibition.

Councillor Yvonne Gagen, West Lancs Council's portfolio holder for leisure, said: "There's a great programme of activities at Chapel Gallery over these two weeks for everyone to enjoy. So grab your dad – and the rest of the family – and come along to join in the fun."

Late arrivals cause a flutter at Martin Mere

By Danielle Thompson

The newly–hatched nenes at Martin Mere

THREE goslings native to Hawaii have hatched at the Martin Mere Wetland Centre.

Only about 1,000 nene gosling (pronounced 'nay–nay' after their call) survive in the wild in their native Hawaii.

They usually hatch in mid–March but spells of cold weather have delayed their arrival this year.

The nene, also known as the Hawaiian Goose, is popular with visitors to the Burscough reserve – both adults and children – for being one of the birds that will actually take food from the hand.

It also represents one of the Wildfowl and Wetlands Trust's greatest conservation success stories in the matter of breeding birds in captivity and releasing them into the wild.

The reintroduction programme started at Martin Mere in the 1980s when just three eggs were delivered to the centre. There are now approximately 60 Hawaiian geese in the grounds.

The latest goslings, born at the satrt of this month, have already attracted a lot of attention from families visiting the centre.

Sometimes known as lava geese, nenes are the only waterfowl adapted for life on lava flows.

An estimated 25,000 used to inhabit the Hawaiian islands, but following the arrival of Europeans in the late 18th century their numbers immediately began to decline and the introduction of the mongoose in 1883 seemed to seal their fate as it preyed voraciously on eggs, chicks and adults alike.

By 1907, the nene was belatedly recognised as a protected species, although this seemed too little too late and only 20 or 30 birds were believed to have survived by 1949.

A major re–introduction programme was launched by WWT founder, Sir Peter Scot, who brought over two of the only remaining nenes in the world from Hawaii and over tyhe years the trust went on to release more than 200 back into the wild, helping to save the species from extinction.

Mrs Pam Calvert

My husband's got his Hearing Back

Pam said: "When someone close to you has a hearing problem the whole family has a hearing problem, I still can't believe we left it so long before we sought help. The friendly and professional people at the hearing centre made the whole experience far more enjoyable than we could have hoped for.

They made us feel welcome and after a thorough evaluation of Neil's hearing, the hearing specialist explained why he was not hearing everything all the family and his friends were saying. After the first visit to have his new 'ears' we all breathed a sigh of relief as he hears so much more without straining or missing out and now is much less tired at the end of each day.

Neil did not realise just how loud the telly had been until the family turned the volume up to where he used to turn it too loud for everyone else and some of us would leave the room it was uncomfortable".

Invisible and light as a feather

Benidorm star, Sherrie, to open 2015 Flower Show

TV STAR Sherrie Hewson is to swap the sun loungers of the Costa del Sol for the pier and promenade to open the 2015 Southport Flower Show.

Sherrie, (pictured top right) who has entertained millions of viewers in the hit show 'Benidorm', is heading for the resort as guest of honour as the annual show celebrates its 86th year.

The popular actress plays social climbing hotel manageress Joyce Temple Savage in the ITV1 comedy, her latest acclaimed role in a hugely successful 40–year broadcasting career.

Sherrie got her first break as part of the Carry On cast in the 1970s and has gone on to appear in many of Britain's best–loved TV shows including Coronation Street and Emmerdale. She has also been a regular panellist on the ITV1 daytime chat show Loose Women for more than a decade.

She will appear at Southport on Thursday, August 20, for the opening day of what is Britain's biggest independent flower show.

Sherrie said: "I was delighted to be asked to open Southport Flower Show. Gardening is my passion and my relaxation.

"I have had an allotment in my time but was never very successful at growing things, probably because I tried exotic fruits that need hot weather.

"I did try a grapevine when I lived in the south and did quite well until a freak June hail storm ripped it down! I used to trim my lawn with a pair of scissors until someone pointed out it was a bit of a crazy thing to be doing so I stopped but I can still be very obsessive over my lawn."

This year's Southport Flower Show will have a China theme and the 2015 line–up also features a food festival, amateur growers' competitions and entertainment for all the family.

Sherrie will be among a host of famous names at Southport including the award winning French chef Jean–Christophe Novelli.

There will also be masterclasses from some of the UK's leading gardening experts with Joe Swift of BBC Gardeners' World, former royal gardener Jim Buttress, Christine Walkden the BBC One Show's resident garden specialist and Channel 4's 'Landscape Man' Matthew Wilson all appearing at Southport.

Entertainment for all the family will include circus clowns Sonny and Rainbow and the Vander Quad Wheel of Death as well as birds of prey and dog displays.

General Manager Ray Roukin said: "We're looking forward to welcoming Sherrie to Southport and we're sure our seaside show will offer a day out to remember."

Clutter of signs, poles and masts make our land ugly

I READ in a national newspaper feature a few weeks ago about a chap called Ian Nairn.

Now I've never heard of Ian Nairn before, and I should like him since he agreed with me on a subject close to my heart – the clutter that blights our cities, towns, villages and countryside.

I must confess though that said Ian Nairn sounds a bit too much like a zealot. So though I support all his ideas of which I read, I don't think I would want to go on holiday with him.

Still, this man quit his flying career in the RAF at the age of 25 and launched himself into a crusade to save Great Britain from totally uglifying itself.

Around 60 years ago he launched 'Outrage', which warned of us creating what he termed 'Subtopia', where development spilled over from our urban areas in one ugly suburban sprawl.

Sound familiar?

He also deplored the spreading mass of signs, poles and posters across our once green and pleasant land.

Now enough has been written in this and every other newspaper in the country about the green belt and its destruction, so I'll give that a rest for now.

What really angers me are the ever–spreading signs, poles and masts springing up in every street, road and increasingly country lanes as well.

Local authorities battle against shops using 'A' boards to advertise their wares as they are a hazard for the blind and partially sighted, but they are often the ones to increase our street clutter with a veritable forest of new poles carrying messages for drivers.

In recent months in my neck of the woods, the plethora of 20mph signs, all pole mounted on the pavement, has joined the communication masts, direction signs, those useless circular advertising things that no–one can easily read and in any case often endorse events which took place last year or the year before as a hazard to anyone with a baby buggy, wheelchair, or even two largish dogs (as in my case).

Many of these signs are duplicated, many are really not useful anyway, and frankly I reckon those directed at motorists can in themselves be a safety hazard as the driver tries to read an decipher the information instead of actually looking at what is going on on the road ahead.

Ian Nairn thought all of this building, erecting and general detritus on our highways and byways, would affect our physical and mental health.

Certainly my mental health is suffering because of the anger that builds in me almost every time I walk abroad and see not only the official clutter but also of course the rubbish strewn casually anywhere.

As to the physical – well I have actually walked into one of these posts supporting a traffic sign of some sort, the dogs have walked one side of an obstruction while I attempted to use the other.

As the article pointed out – we are all responsible for the rubbish and general litter that abounds – but it is officialdom which sanctions and erects much of the rest.

Flying the flag for Armed Forces Day

LANCASHIRE County Council will show their support and appreciation for the contribution made by our armed forces personnel past and present and for the wider forces' community of families, veterans and cadets, by flying a special flag on Armed Forces Day, Monday, June 22.

The raising of the flag by local authorities throughout the country, marks the start of a week of celebrations culminating on Saturday, June 27 with the Armed Forces Day national event in Guildford, as well as hundreds of smaller gatherings across the UK.

The Lord–Lieutenant of Lancashire, Lord Shuttleworth, will hand the flag over to the chairman of Lancashire County Council, Margaret Brindle, at a ceremony at County Hall, Preston.

They will be joined by representatives from the Royal British Legion, armed forces groups, soldiers, council staff and county councillors.

Lord Shuttleworth said: "Having commemorated some special occasions already this year, including the 70th anniversary of VE Day and the 100th anniversary of the 1915 Gallipoli landings, Armed Forces Week has a continued significance for us all. We pay grateful tribute to all our servicemen and women, past and present."

Flag–raising events will also take place on June 22 in each Lancashire district, organised by district councils and attended by a member of the Lancashire Lieutenancy. They will be joined by councillors and officers from the district council and representatives of the Armed Forces and the Royal British Legion.

Inspectors praise college's progress

Report demonstrates hard work of staff and students, says principal

By Ollie Cowan

INSPECTORS from education watchdog Ofsted have highlighted 'significant progress' made by the leadership team at a college attended by students from West Lancashire.

During their visit to King George V College in Southport, inspectors commented on the impressively short timescale over which this had been achieved.

In their report they stated: "Significant progress has been made in strengthening governance and performance management."

The assessment also found that the Scarisbrick New Road site had significantly improved its work in developing students' skills and confidence to complete assessments successfully in examination conditions and added that this has led to a "significant improvement in students' attitudes, and that they have a "high level of motivation and interest in their work."

Principal, Adele Wills, said the report demonstrated the hard work of all staff and students. "This is further evidence of the work we are doing to make the college one of the best in the area.

"We are continuing to work hard to meet the targets we have set ourselves and continue our journey back to outstanding.

KGV principal Adele Wills

"We are delighted with this positive feedback from what was another rigorous Ofsted visit and we are looking forward to seeing the results of this in August when we anticipate a bumper crop of results."

The college opened its brand new £4million arts and creative building on Saturday, June 6 and held a summer festival to celebrate the achievement.

Ms Wills added: "This investment demonstrates our commitment to our students, and will help them by providing them with state–of–the–art classrooms and learning resources.

"The facilities we have available to us are world–class and are backed by a dedicated teaching team who are striving to give students the best education available – and that's officially endorsed by Ofsted."

Police and nurses team up for mental health response service pilot

By Danielle Thompson

A PILOT scheme aimed at helping people with a mental health problem who need emergency help has been rolled out across Lancashire.

From Monday (June 15) an innovative partnership came into force aimed at reducing demand while ensuring that people get the right assistance at the first point of contact.

The Mental Health Response Service (MHRS) will see police officers working in tandem with dedicated NHS mental health nurses who can make assessments and referrals meaning that people can get appropriate medical attention on the spot, rather than being taken to police custody or hospital.

In addition, from August, mental health nurses will also be working within the force control room where 999 calls are answered, monitoring calls and offering advice to those reporting mental health related matters.

Almost one in every four incidents that police officers attend has some sort of related mental health issue, which can often be a trigger for the incident itself.

Lancashire's assistant chief constable, Mark Bates, said: "We receive all sorts of calls where mental health is a factor, from those just calling for someone to speak to because they are lonely and depressed, to people threatening to commit suicide. This scheme is about taking action and supporting people at the earliest opportunity to prevent problems rather than responding to them. It means that individuals and families receive the most appropriate, quality support to ultimately build social resilience and create thriving communities.

"A quarter of the incidents that we deal with have some sort of related, and often complex, mental health issues attached. The MHRS will allow us to get upstream in helping those people to get the right response and support at first contact hopefully resulting in individuals being less likely to enter the criminal justice system and less likely to need the services of police and other agencies, thereby helping to reduce demand on all frontline services."

War horse talk in aid of ex–servicemen

A TALK entitled 'Lathom's War Horses' will be held at the Skelmersdale Wardens Social Club, Blaguegate Lane, on Thursday, June 25, starting at 7.30pm.

Organised by the Lathom Park Trust, it will tell the story of the First World War Remount Depot at the park.

Tickets, priced £3, will be available on the door and procceds will go to the Skelmersdale Ex–Servicemen's Association.

Restaurant plan for listed manor house

A GRADE II listed manor house with origins dating back to the 13th century could be set to become a restaurant if planning permission is granted later this month.

Moor Hall, Aughton is set in five–acre grounds with a lake and tennis courts and boasts five reception rooms, eight bedrooms and a Victorian walled garden. There is also a separate two–bedroomed lodge and a range of barns and stables.

It was sold earlier this year after being put on the market in January as a freehold by estate agents Savills with a guide price of £2million.

Plans submitted to West Lancs Council by Moor Hall Construction Limited include a change of use for the hall, outbuildings and gated lodge into a restaurant with extra rooms, as well as provisions for car parking and landscaping.

The submission describes the property as a country house with the main part dated 1566, but likely to have been built earlier, and with additions made in the 18th and 19th centuries.

The council's planning committee is expected to make a decision on the application by Friday, June 26.

Hobnob Club gets off to flying start

A NEW coffee morning club set up in Aughton has proved to be the residents' cup of tea!

The Hobnob Club, which is open to everyone, held its first meeting at Aughton Village Hall on Winifred Lane earlier this month and was attended by more than 30 residents.

One of the organisers, Julia Woolgar, said: "The Hobnob coffee mornings at Aughton Village Hall got off to an excellent start in May and the people who attended enjoyed home–baked scones and flapjacks."

Arrangements have already been made for the next two meetings on Wednesday, June 24 and Wednesday, July 8, both starting at 11am.

At the June 24 meeting there will be a bring–and–buy sale and the July 8 wil feature a collection of small items suitable for charity shoeboxes for the International Aid Trust.

Julia added: "Everyone is welcome to come along and enjoy a cup of coffee and meet up with friends and neighbours and make new links."

Gospel choir at Bickerstaffe

HOLY Trinity Church, Bickerstaffe is hosting Midsummer Praise on Friday (June 19).

Described as a 'free gospel choir event', the entertainment gets underway at the Church Road venue at 7pm and includes a choir, dance and cream teas.

Church member, Edward McCarth, said: "It will be an evening to sing your heart out to, with great music, a gospel choir, dance and cream teas – what more could you want for a great, free, summer evening?"

Bishop to join in Ministry Centre's anniversary celebrations

Christ Church Aughton's Ministry Centre

WORSHIPPERS will celebrate the fifth anniversary of the opening of Christ Church Aughton's Ministry Centre tomorrow (Thursday, June 19).

The centre is a versatile church hall complex including Cafe Vista, named after the view it offers across the West Lancashire Plain towards Blackpool, along with a large function hall and a first–floor facility.

Opened in June 2010 by the Bishops of Liverpool and Virginia, the centre is used throughout the week by various church and external groups.

To celebrate the anniversary on Thursday, the Bishop of Warrington, the Right Reverend Richard Blackburn (who laid the foundation stone) will be joining the vicar, Reverend Ross Moughtin and members of staff for a celebratory lunch in the cafe, which is staffed solely by volunteers.

Centre manager, Nick Walkden, said: "It's a real privilege to work in this great facility which is so well used by the church and other Christian–run agencies including the Street Pastors, Ormskirk Debt Advice and the food bank, as well as the wider public.

"Built on the site of the original church school, it is a marvellous thriving hub of the community. Young and old bustle through the doors with a busy toddler group and seniors luncheon club. We also host the National Alpha Course, some U3A groups and many other users."

1141031

Crosby music lovers will once again be able to enjoy an open air Last Night of the Proms concert and fireworks extravaganza on their doorstep this summer.

b. Fran Halsall
c. Tom O'Connor
d. Joey Essex

Winner will be drawn at random. Email your answer plus full contact details to: proms@stmarys.lpool.sch.uk by 12 noon on Friday 26th June 2015.

For the fifth year in a row, St. Mary's College will stage the musical spectacular at its Blundell Park playing field on Little Crosby Road at 7.30pm on Saturday 4th July.

Proms in the Park will feature 250 talented young musicians from the College and its Preparatory School, The Mount, conducted by the school's Director of Music, Andrew Byers.

Compere for the event will be BBC Radio Merseyside presenter Roger Phillips and there will also be a special guest appearances by the choirs from Great Crosby Catholic Primary School and English Martyrs Catholic Primary School in Litherland.

The St. Mary's pupils will play all the old favourites from the annual Last Night of the Proms concert at the Royal Albert Hall.

The concert will finish with a performance of Tchaikovsky's 1812 Overture, which will be accompanied by a spectacular fireworks display.

St. Mary's Principal, Mike Kennedy, commented: "The Last Night of the Proms concert has been a tradition at the school for many years now, but staging it in the open air in recent summers has brought a whole new dimension to the event. "Following the excellent feedback we received in 2014, we're hoping for an even bigger audience this year."

"They will be able to enjoy a concert that will be both a rousing way to end the school year and a wonderful showcase for the wealth of musical talent here at St. Mary's," added Mr Kennedy.

Advanced ticket prices for the concert are £17.50 for adults, £10.00 for children and £50.00 for a family ticket (2 adults, 2 children). Entrance is free for children under five.

For more information about the event and to book tickets please ring St. Mary's College on 0151 924 3926 or email proms@stmarys.lpool.sch.uk.

Specialist mental health support for military veterans to continue

MILITARY veterans in Lancashire will continue to receive specialist mental health support from the NHS following a competitive tender.

Pennine Care NHS Foundation Trust will now provide the Military Veterans' Service in partnership with Lancashire Care NHS Foundation Trust.

For the last four years Pennine Care led the service across the North West as part of a pilot and to date has helped more than 1,000 veterans with a range of mental health problems.

The Military Veterans' Service provides mental health support to ex–service personnel for conditions including depression, alcohol and substance misuse, anger problems and post–traumatic stress disorder.

Following the contract award, veterans will continue to receive much–needed mental health support from experts who understand the impact of military service, as well as having sound knowledge of the local area. These include clinical psychologists, specialist psychological wellbeing practitioners and case managers.

Dr Alan Barrett, consultant clinical psychologist and lead for the Military Veterans' Service, commented: "It's fantastic that veterans in the area will continue to have access to a specialist psychological therapies service. Whilst most veterans are happy to use generic NHS services, many of those with more complex mental health needs benefit significantly from working with staff who combine excellent clinical skills with an understanding of armed forces culture.

"Some of our staff are veterans themselves and others have family members in the forces. Veterans have told us this makes a big difference in giving them confidence that the service can help them."

The new service will commence from July 1.

Veterans can self–refer to the service by either using the online form at www.penninecare.nhs.uk/military–veterans or calling 0300 323 0707 to speak to a member of staff. Alternatively they can speak to their GP, health and social care professional or voluntary sector worker to make a referral on their behalf.

Charity's pat on back for keen canal volunteers

Report by Danielle Thompson

VOLUNTEERS are putting in more hours to help maintain and improve the region's canals, according to the Canal & River Trust.

Figures released this week by the charity, which oversees 2,000 miles of waterways across the North West – including the Leeds–Liverpool Canal in West Lancashire – showed that the number of hours worked by volunteers has increased over the last year by 13.75% to a total of 70,777 hours, the equivalent of 10,111 seven–hour days.

Volunteers take on a wide range of tasks that are integral to the upkeep of the canal system, including helping to keep towpaths clean and tidy, cutting back vegetation along canal and river banks, acting as volunteer lock keepers and looking after people visiting the region on boating holidays.

Groups of volunteers, organisations and local businesses, including the Leeds & Liverpool Canal Society, help out by 'adopting' sections of the canal, making a positive difference.

Canal & River Trust waterway manager, Chantelle Seaborn, said: "We are very grateful to everyone who volunteers with the trust. They make the waterways a nicer place to visit, including providing a welcome friendly face for everyone using our wonderful waterways.

"Volunteers help with a wide range of tasks, from painting fences and clearing rubbish, assisting boaters through locks to collecting data that helps us look after many much–loved and endangered wildlife.

Explosion

"There are all sorts of opportunities to get involved, including some office–based roles. I know volunteers enjoy the social side of the role and the chance to get outdoors and meet people. It's a lovely way to spend your spare time.

"Many years ago volunteers saved much of the canal network from closure and have underpinned its survival in recent decades by continuing to support them. In recent years there has been an explosion of new people coming to volunteer on the waterways and this is a fantastic springboard to securing the canals' future."

• For more information about volunteering on the waterways visit canalrivertrust.org.uk/volunteer.

Exhibition closing date reminder

Report by Henry James

TALENTED artists seeking to exhibit their work to a wider audience – with a chance to win up to £800 in prize money – are reminded that the closing date for entries for the West Lancashire Open Exhibition is fast approaching.

Each entrant can submit two original pieces of artwork that will be presented to the selected panel. The submission days for handing in work are Friday and Saturday, June 26 and 27.

All media entered will be considered ranging from paintings, printmaking, three–dimensional work and photography to sculpture and textiles.

Councillor Yvonne Gagen, West Lancs Council's portfolio holder for leisure, said: "This annual exhibition is a fantastic opportunity and a great way to get your work noticed, especially if you haven't exhibited before. Work from all media is considered, which makes for an exciting and varied exhibition – just make sure you don't miss the deadline."

All the work selected is exhibited at the Chapel Gallery in St Helens Road, Ormskirk from July 11 to September 9.

First prize is £800, second prize £400 and third prize £200. Visitors to the gallery will also be able to choose the winner of the People's Prize, given to the most popular work on display, with the winner receiving the opportunity to exhibit at the gallery along with a £150 exhibition fee.

Large scale two–dimensional and three–dimensional works must be submitted by photograph only. The gallery should be in receipt of these submissions by Friday, June 26. They should also include a completed entry form and a first class stamp

For more information and to download an entry form visit www.chapelgallery.org.uk or www.westlancs.gov.uk/chapelgallery. Entry forms can also be picked from the gallery during opening hours (Tuesday to Saturday, 10am to 4.30pm) or by emailing chapel.gallery@westlancs.gov.uk.

It's the best thing I ever did...

"Other than marrying my late beloved husband, George Webster, moving to Jones Homes' Priory Gate development is the best thing I ever did."

Pearl Webster, aged 84, recently purchased a two bedroom apartment at Priory Gate in Aughton, downsizing from a larger property on nearby Delph Park Avenue, where she lived for the past 50 years.

After finding it increasing difficult trying to run a house on her own, with all it entails including management, maintenance and gardening, Pearl was ready to move to an apartment. Wanting to remain in Aughton, Pearl went to visit the properties at Priory Gate and immediately knew this is where she would buy.

Pearl says: "Spacious yet compact, light and airy, and with all the assets of a bungalow but without the maintenance, the apartments at Priory Gate are lovely. From my lounge, I enjoy exceptionally beautiful views of the green open space that surrounds the development, while from my kitchen window I have views of vibrant and colourful flower beds, which I don't have to tend.

"The development is tranquil and pleasantly peaceful, yet with lots of new neighbours, it is also friendly and I feel very safe and content."

Pearl purchased a ground floor apartment at Priory Gate with the help of Hamro the independent part exchange facilitator used by Jones Homes. Pearl described the selling and buying of her new home as worry and hassle free as everything was taken care of for her.

Being that this is the first time Pearl has ever bought a new build property, she was thrilled to be able to choose her kitchen units, worktops and appliances as well as tiles throughout the apartment, something she took great delight in.

She continues: "Once I had made my mind up and decided to buy at Priory Gate, I was able to personalise the apartment by picking my kitchen and selecting tiles for the kitchen and two bathrooms. Jones Homes showed me lots of options and colour schemes, which greatly helped me, and the end result is exactly as I envisaged.

"Although I was downsizing and moving to a brand new home, I kept much of my furniture from the original house so the apartment instantly felt familiar. I couldn't be happier. The apartment is finished to an exceptional standard with modern fixtures and fittings that are excellent quality.

"The development is well located too. I have lived in Aughton for a very long time and I often go to Town Green Village and Ormskirk to visit friends and shop. I also go to U3A (University of the 3rd Age), my lifeline, a couple of times a week to meet friends and attend events. The local bus service runs right past the entrance of Priory Gate which makes it convenient and easy for me to get around."

As Pearl continues to settle in at Priory Gate, she is looking forward to fully enjoying her wonderful new home. She concludes: "I have a fabulous patio, accessed from French doors in my lounge, which I have yet to use. I plan to buy some garden furniture shortly so that I will be able to soak up the sun from the patio, chatting to neighbours as they pass. What more can I ask for other than good health so that I can enjoy my wonderful new home."

Priory Gate is located on Aughton Park Drive, with prices starting from £205,000. For further information, please call 01695 581358. Open Thursday – Monday (closed Tuesday & Wednesday) from 11am until 5.30pm. Alternatively, visit www.jones-homes.co.uk.

Finale of popular musical brought 'tears to the eyes'

Review by Ellen Campbell

- West Side Story
- Maghull Musical Theatre Company
- Little Theatre, Southport

IN times of decreasing membership of amateur societies, Maghull have certainly bucked the trend with a credible 30 plus youngsters in the cast for their latest production, West Side Story.

The classic story of Romeo and Juliet is recreated in the back streets of New York City around the 1950s with two rival gangs (the Jets and the Sharks) feuding for control of the streets.

The Sharks are the Immigrants from Puerto Rico, trying to establish new lives for themselves and their menacing leader, Bernardo (Lee Ashall), while the leader of the American gang, The Jets, is the equally threatening Riff (Gavin Hodson). When, after several skirmishes, the two gangs finally square up to each other with knives, tragic consequences ensue.

Bernardo's sister is Maria (Kay Williams) and, like the different cultures of today, she is happy to adapt to the American way and integrate but the family are against her mixing. At the local dance she meets the man of her dreams, Tony (Matt Casson), a Jet, and it is love at first sight. Bernardo's girlfriend, Anita (Jess D'Silva) tries to dissuade Maria from seeing him but relents to pressure from Maria and goes to pass on a message to Tony at the Drugstore which results in awful repercussions.

The strength of this show lies in the song and dance routines, choreographed by Alexandra Ashall and Betty Hall. Enhanced by the colourful Latin American costumes, they were a delight to watch. The split second timing in the frantic fight scenes was spot on.

The 13–piece band, under the direction of Malcolm Fallows, provided all the zizz that one expects from this show which has four stand out numbers in Tonight, America, I Feel Pretty and Somewhere, all of which were beautifully sung. When Kay Williams sang Hold my Hand to her dying lover in the final poignant moments, it brought tears to the eyes of many in the audience.

Director Betty Hall is to be congratulated on a fine show.

Star Rating. 8 out of 10. An excellent production.

SACRED HEART

May the Sacred Heart of Jesus Christ be adored, glorified and loved today and every day throughout the world forever. Amen

Say six times a day for nine days and your request will be granted no matter how impossible.

Publication promised.

A.C.

Saint Jude's Novena

May the Sacred Heart of Jesus be glorified, loved and preserved throughout the world now and forever.

Sacred Heart of Jesus, pray for us, St. Jude worker of miracles pray for us. St. Jude, helper of the hopeless pray for us.

Say this prayer 9 times a day. By the 8th day your prayers may be answered. Say it for 9 days and it has never been known to fail.

Publication must be promised. Thank you St. Jude

Instructions:
Light your candle and declare out loud what miracle you need right now. Repeat this prayer 9 times for 9 days. Do this at the same time each day, never skip a day. If you do, you need to start over again. On the 9th day give thanks, and say "So be it." Give it up to Saint Jude and let go of any worry. You will see results in 72 hours. Never use this prayer to manipulate or control anyone. Use it only with the best intentions.

This is the most important part of the entire process YOU MUST pass this miracle prayer onto others. Some people publish it in the paper, others e-mail it to their friends, and others post it a public building.

P.Y

PRAYER TO THE BLESSED VIRGIN

Never known to fail.

O most beautiful flower of Mount Carmel, faithful Mother of the Son of God, Immaculate Virgin, assist me in this necessity, O Star of the Sea, help me and show me herein you are my Mother, O Holy Mary Mother of God, Queen of Heaven and Earth, I humbly beseech you from the bottom of my heart to succour me in my necessity.

(Make Request).

There are none that can withstand your powers. Mary, conceived without sin, pray for us who have recourse to thee (3 Times).

Sweet Mother, I place this cause in your hands (3 times).

Thank you for your mercy towards me and mine.

This prayer must be said for three days and after that the request will be granted and the prayer must be published.

S.J.K

Novena

Dear heart of Jesus.
In the past I have asked you for favours.
This time I ask you for this special one.
(mention Favour)

Take it dear heart of Jesus and place it within your heart where your Father sees it, then in his merciful eyes it will become your favour and not mine.

Amen

And this prayer must be said three times for three days and after that the request will be granted and the prayer must be published.

An inconvenient truth about eco cars

Life On Cars
DAVID SIMISTER

HERE'S some shocking news you probably weren't expecting – sales of electric cars have gone through the roof!

That's the message from the Department for Transport, which is proudly trumpeting the fact that sales of what it calls Ultra Low Emissions Vehicles are up 366 per cent from this time last year. That's plain English for not only the likes of Nissan's LEAF, which run on electricity alone, but plug–in hybrids like Toyota's Prius, which lace the eco–friendly cocktail with a spot of petrol power to spice longer journeys up a bit. It's a huge rise, which is why the Government's just committed to chucking half a billion quid at boosting ULEV sales.

But there's a catch.

Yes, sales of the sort of eco–friendly offerings that get Whitehall's official stamp of approval – and for that, you need fewer than 75g of carbon dioxide to escape from your tailpipe, or preferably none at all – are three times what they were a year ago. In the first four months of this year, Britain took 9,046 of them to its bosom. To put that into context, the total for all vehicles – cars, vans, buses, bikes, the lot – was 872,000. In other words, even with the huge surge in popularity the eco–friendly ones the Government's so keen to push make up barely one per cent of the total.

I'd be tempted to sign off in the same way my Maths teacher used to when I tried to pull a statistical fast one – a terse 'must try harder' – but that'd be skipping an even more inconvenient truth. You shouldn't dismiss the eco–friendly offerings as sales also–rans, because they're getting ever better.

The prototype electric MINI I remember driving five years ago has evolved into the brilliant BMW i3 and its i8 supercar sibling, the latter of which surely qualifies as the first truly cool plug–in hybrid. The Nissan LEAF might not be my cup of tea but you can't fault its ability to do humdrum hatchback things on volts alone. Best of all, the pub argument credentials for my favourite electric car – the mildly wacky Renault Twizy – has been strengthened by the fact Sir Stirling Moss has recently bought one. Oh, and it's mid–engined, rear–wheel–drive and tuned by the same people who do the Renaultsport Clio.

If you're seriously thinking of getting a ULEV, don't do it because it ticks the bureaucratic boxes. Do it because – once you get past the environmental flim–flam – some of them are actually really good. That's the real shock behind the sales figures.

Search recall history with ease

By David Simister

IF YOU'VE ever wondered whether your pride and joy has been issued with a vehicle recall then you might want to try a newly–launched website launched by the Society of Motor Manufacturers and Traders. If you enter your car's VIN number – a 17 digit code you can find on the registration document – the site can tell you if it has been affected by any recalls. Go to www.motorcodes.co.uk/vehicle–recall to try it out.

Ormskirk just fail to force victory at Bootle

ORMSKIRK fell further behind leaders New Brighton in the Premier Division of the Liverpool & District Cricket Competition after being held to a draw at home to Bootle,writes Glenn Wallworth.

After electing to bat Ormskirk rattled up 237–6 dec off 51.1 overs, thanks in the main to skipper Matty Glayzer who fell two short of his century on 98, former skipper Ian Robinson 73 and 30 from Michael Jones.

In reply the visitors took the game to the wire, with Jackson Knight 44, David Snellgrove 32, Scott Butterworth 32 and Michael Gill 26 all contributing at the top of the order and Chris Cunningham 21* down the order, as they ended 13 short of victory on 225–9 off 63 overs, with Dane Currency 4–85 and Lancashire's Simon Kerrigan 3–73 taking the bulk of the wickets.

Formby remain in third place despite going down by a single wicket in a thrilling match at home to top of the table New Brighton.

After choosing to bat first the hosts were indebted to Lancashire's Stephen Parry 58 who top scored in a below par total of 147, with Ashraf Nawab 5–51 and David While 4–50 in fine form with the ball.

In reply, 50 from Andrew Clarke helped the visitors to 122–6 before the hosts hit back to reduce them to 128–9.

However the last wicket pairing of Mark Hale 12* and Andy Evans 8* took the leaders to victory on 148–9, with Parry 5–64 and Patrick Pisel 3–18 both shining with the ball.

Southport & Birkdale won by 2 wickets at Highfield after the hosts were put in to bat and thanks to Scott Lees (4–34) and Ian Sutcliffe (3–26) were bowled out for 140, with skipper Michael Farrell top scoring with 59.

In reply, Guy Edwards 36, Adam Phillips 29 and Josh Bohannon 27 helped S&B to 99–2, before a middle order collapse saw them lose 6 wickets for 34 runs.

In–form James McCombie steadied the nerves for S&B with an unbeaten 18 to take them to victory on 143–8.

This weekend's local LDCC Premier league fixtures (1pm): Birkenhead Park v Formby, Ormskirk v Highfield, Southport & Birkdale v Northern.

Burscough's winning start comes to an end after batting collapse

BURSCOUGH'S winning start to their Second Division season came to an end at home to Spring View on Saturday.

The visitors' total of 201 was built around a century from Akbar Rehman who hit 103 (12x4s & 2x6s), with skipper Rob Glaysher taking the bowling honours with 5–33. In reply, Ryan Hughes 62 and Navdeep Aujla 37 gave the hosts a great platform and at 114–2 looked set for victory, until a late order collapse saw them bowled out for 164, with Rehman 5–35 and Marc Birch 3–41 in fine form with the ball.

Hightown St Mary's lost by 7 wickets at Skelmersdale, after they had been dismissed for 114 with Bright Njanji 41 top scoring, whilst Akmal Ghafoor took 4–12.

In reply an unbeaten 39 from opener Ben Maddocks helped lead the hosts to victory on 118–3.

Fleetwood Hesketh dropped to fifth in the First Division table after a disappointing 7 wicket home defeat to bottom placed Newton le Willows.

After being asked to bat the hosts had no real answer to seamer Tahir Maqsood 7–31 and were bowled out for 88, with Neil Rimmer 34 and Dean Skelton 12* the only players to reach double figures.

In reply the visitors wrapped up victory in 23 overs as they reached 90–3, with Chris Cambers 28* and Danny Barlow 21* both unbeaten.

Ainsdale lost by 132 runs at runaway leaders Colwyn Bay.

Second placed Maghull had no game after beating Liverpool by 10 runs the previous Sunday.

This weekend's local LDCC First and Second Division fixtures (1pm): Ainsdale v Fleetwood Hesketh, Northop Hall v Maghull, Hightown St Mary's v Alder and Old Xaverians v Burscough.

Bowls final joy for Catenians

MEMBERS of the Ormskirk Catenians were bowled over for joy when they reached the finals of the North West Catenians bowling competition.

The Catenian Association, a voluntary Catholic organisation founded in 1908, is made up of groups known as circles with members referred to as brothers.

The Ormskirk branch of the Catenian Association (Circle 285), which meets on the second Wednesday of the month at 7.30pm at Hurlston Hall in Scarisbrick, managed to reach the finals of the bowling contest against the St Helens' Circle but narrowly missed out on the top spot.

Andrew Pritchard, from the Ormskirk Circle, said: "It was almost a top victory for Ormskirk.

"We enjoyed an excellent afternoon at St Helens Bowling Club for the Catenian Province competition against Circles from four other provinces and the event took place in beautiful sunshine.

"The Ormskirk President arrived to spectate, only to be told he was performing! Luckily our player Sid Moy had a spare set of bowls and so the competition began.

"Our players Eddie McGuire and Tony Charnock had a hard tussle with the first team from St Helens and after a close match St Helens won.

"Sid Moy and our player Tony Devine beat the St Helens' second team and then the Birkenhead Circle in the semi–final. They were on great form and in a very closely contested final beat South Liverpool to win the trophy and allow Ormskirk Circle to have the honour of organising the competition next year!"

• For more information or to join the Catenians, visit thecatenians.co.uk or contact Ian Robinson on 01257 462100 or by email at r.i.robinson60@btinternet.com
